

Spring Web Development Intern Wanted!

Are you an eager learner passionate about web development? Well, you're in luck! Bold Agency is looking for a Web Development Intern to join our team for Spring 2024!

You Have:

- Base understanding of HTML5, CSS3 along with scripting languages, Javascript, and PHP.
- Interest in building WordPress Themes and/or Plugins from scratch
- Interest in building native applications on iOS and Android devices
- Base knowledge of MySQL/PhpMyAdmin Experience and simpler Database queries
- Understand the full process of web development (design, development and deployment)

You Will:

- Learn how to integrate with third-party APIs to fetch and send data between different platforms/providers/solutions, etc.
- Test staging sites on the latest browsers and debug before site launch
- Learn how to build custom web-based solutions for clients in various industries
- Learn skills on both front-end and back-end development
- Develop best practices for security, performance, and ADA compliance
- Gain valuable agency experience and work with projects across varying industries

You Are:

- A Sophomore/Junior/Senior undergrad majoring in computer science or a related field
- A problem solver who can dive into research to help our dev team analyze web-based systems
- Self-motivated and enjoys flexibility
- A code nerd who is able to work with a creative team and independently
- Able to juggle multiple projects, prioritize work, and meet deadlines in a fast-paced environment
- Someone who pays attention to details

Benefits:

- Each intern is provided with a mentor who will be the go-to person for any help needed during the course of your internship
- Late hours if you're a night owl
- Unlimited Office Snacks
- Dog-friendly work environment
- Free wakeboard lessons
- Letters of Recommendation available based upon performance after internship completion

All this sound good? Sweet! Next steps:

- Candidates should send their resumes with examples of a previous website they've completed to: hi@theboldagency.co
- We will evaluate all applicants and follow up via email to qualified applicants to discuss setting up an interview
 - All internships are paid and weekly hours are flexible
 - Applications with no resume or website portfolio will not be considered